Now available in paperback—an original approach to math by stealth that makes the tricky concepts of size and distance fun and easy to understand.

How Many Mice Make an Elephant? And Other Big Questions about Size and Distance* introduces children to this tricky math concept in a fun, relatable way.

Fantastically written by Tracey Turner, questions such as "How many high jumps to the moon?" and "How many ice cubes make an iceberg?" get children to think about just how high, how big, and how far things are, as well as teaching them the math to work it out! The logic behind each comparison is explained in clear, simple steps for readers to follow, helping them to reach the answer. Beautiful illustrations by Aaron Cushley couldn't be further from a math text book, making learning math a truly fun experience.

Includes an introduction by Kjartan Poskitt, author of the bestselling Murderous Math series.

Tracey Turner has written more than 70 books, most of them for children, on subjects including inventions, the universe, famous writers, and deadly perils. She is the author of Kingfisher's How Many Hairs on a Grizzly Bear? and The Curious Book of Lists.
